

About Jump Start

Designed by Multiplex women, our Jump Start programs encourage women into construction using our projects as vehicles to educate and inspire.

Through Jump Start, female high school students have the opportunity to spend time with a Multiplex delivery team and build their understanding of the fantastic career opportunities that exist within our industry.

We will soon be running a Jump Start program for tertiary pathways alongside our John Hunter Health and Innovation Precinct project.

Who is it for?

The John Hunter Health and Innovation Precinct Jump Start program for tertiary pathways is for students interested in a non-trade construction career such as architecture, design, engineering or construction management.

It is open to female students in years 9 - 12 who attend school in the Hunter catchment area.

What's involved?

The program is delivered across five 2-3 hour interactive, discipline-based workshops that include site walks, mentoring sessions and panel discussions.

Workshops will be held on site and out of school hours, monthly from March - July 2024.

Following these workshops, career and work experience opportunities will be available for students interested in continuing their journey with Multiplex or their subcontractors.
